

Bunting Instructions

Draw a paper template for the bunting flags according to the size you want. Big - 20 x 30 x 30cm; Medium-12 x 20 x 20cm; Small 10 x 15 x 15cm

Next, pin and cut out as many triangles as you want from scrap fabric. For 5 metres of medium-sized bunting you will need about 30 triangles.

Decide what you are going to attach them to. We used cotton webbing and grosgrain ribbon - which feels a little more substantial than satin ribbon. Pin each triangle to the tape/ribbon at equal distances.

Then hand or machine-sew them on, remembering to leave at least a metre of tape free at each end so you can easily string the bunting up.

Now it's time for embellishments. We printed out a template for letters and cut out Happy Birthday, congratulations and children's names from all the little scraps of left over fabric. We sewed bells to some and feathers to others - see our web blog for more ideas.
